

What lies beneath me?

Find a place you can sit quietly.

Outside in your yard? At a nearby park? A quiet place indoors?
Close your eyes and try to imagine all the different things that are happening underground where you are right now?

Are there animals? Are there things growing? Breathing? Digging? Rocks? Fungus?

Sketch or write about what you imagine here: